

KAREN MORAND & THE BOSCO BOYS

new single release June 1, 2021

EASY 3:12

With driving rhythms, soaring vocals and wailing blues harp, Easy comes bouncing in evoking memories of a perfect summer road trip. Using the Detroit River as her muse, singer-songwriter, Karen Morand explores the arc of life, overcoming, letting go and leaving worry behind. The road ahead is unknown, but open and hopeful with the stereo turned up loud.

Written by Karen Morand from the upcoming 2022 album, "Ghost Hotel"

Easy

If I should die before I get old
Before I get old and grey
Carry me down to the river
Let it carry me away

If I should die before it's my time
Before it's my time to leave
You won't hear that ol' devil laughin'
I got a few tricks up my sleeve

Gather 'round and sing songs of redemption
I know that you'll find sweet comfort there
Bring your guitar
Sing Jimmy, Cash and Dillon
Sages and the prophets down in the easy chair
And we'll rest easy

And should our bed grow too cold
Grow too cold to sleep
Cut down our favourite kissing tree
And light a fire under me
Then we'll look across at Detroit City
Remember how the smoke rose in the night
She rises up oh so strong and pretty
Out of darkness, into splendid light
And we'll rest easy
