

ASHES IN THE MORNING

KEN DUNN

Ken Dunn - Ashes In The Morning

After two years of writing, rehearsing, arranging, and recording I am thrilled to announce the completion of my 9th album of original music, entitled "Ashes in the Morning." I feel very passionate about this album which I view as a clarion call to embrace love, compassion, hope, gratitude, and non-violent activism as positive change agents in this unprecedented and challenging era of pandemics, climate change, species loss, and upheaval on so many levels. I hope the music contained herein serves to inspire positive change both within yourself and the fragile world we share.

Radio Release May 1, 2020

1. KING HIGH TIDE (4:25) – Increasingly confronted by the reality of environmental destruction, I find that I can no longer hide from my responsibility to create a better world.
2. COME BACK JONI (6:29) – A song in which I conjure the spirit medicine of Joni Mitchell, while literally running from wildfires in British Columbia.
3. TALKING TALES OF WANDERING (2:40)– A tale whereby the human race emerges from apocalyptic crisis with a stronger sense of home and purpose.
4. RED AND PURPLE TOO (5:43) – This is both a warning against the peddlers of darkness and a reminder that we are rainbow warriors in the service of love.
5. DEEP IN THE HIVE (4:42) – Whether against our selves, our fellow humans, other species, or the environment - war is never winnable. Now is the time to stop.
6. WATER IS LIFE (3:00) – A modern cliché perhaps, but this song was written in honor of the indigenous water protectors around the globe.
7. DOOMED (5:33) – This song emerged from some random thoughts during an extended power outage, although I may need to add a verse about pandemics.
8. LAUGHTER IN YOUR VEINS (2:49) – This is a call to celebrate the magic and wonder of life with every breath we have the good fortune to draw.
9. FAREWELL TO THE CAGES (2:52)– Though we shed these mortal coils and say goodbye to Mother Earth, the human spirit will never die.
